

Obsessive, moi?

OK, so we are a little OTT about innovating sustainable resins, but can you blame us? At Vil we solely manufacture resins – absolutely nothing else, no paints, no primers, just resins. Because we are specialists our customers expect and demand more, it's down to the technical department to deliver. Our laboratory has grown, as has our reputation for products like Alkyd emulsions and those within greener technologies of Aqueous resins with lower VOC content and 100% NV resins for pigment dispersions.

Compulsive quality checking is a good thing but sometimes I do wonder, is the taste test entirely necessary?
